Who does this service support?

People who:

- have been assessed by Adult Health & Social Care but are ineligible for statutory services
- have a history that shows they might put their accommodation at risk without intervention and support
- have a need that is likely to require longer term but low level housing- related support.

We work with people who have a wide range of support needs, such as Autism, learning disabilities, Asperger's or following a brain injury, or where they don't meet the criteria for statutory adult social care, among others.

What kind of support is available?

The service will be really flexible and you will be able to have a say in how you're supported and what your needs are. We can help with finding accommodation, accessing specialist services, budgeting and claiming benefits among many other things.

We can offer support in a range of ways, which could include in your own home and in the community, to help you to maintain your independence. The support is linked to you not your tenancy, so if you move within Nottinghamshire we can continue to support you.
